

Place at the End of the World: Stories from the Frontline

By Janine Di Giovanni

Bloomsbury Trade, 2006. Broschiert. Book Condition: Neu. Neu Neuware, Importqualität, Schnellversand mit dpd - At the start of her career Janine di Giovanni was advised, 'Write about the small voices, the people who can't write about themselves.' For over fifteen years, she has been doing exactly that. From a near-abandoned hospital in Chechnya to bombed-out Tora Bora in Afghanistan, from Saddam Hussein's derelict palace in Baghdad to the inner-city barrios of Kingston, Jamaica, di Giovanni has covered almost every embattled place in the world and the people caught in its midst. Like Myriem, who lives on the West Bank, but can no longer use her farm because it falls on the Israeli side of the security fence; and Sia, one of the child soldiers of Sierra Leone, who talks blithely of shedding her violent past; and Abdul, who was imprisoned by the Taliban at seventeen for not wearing a beard. The pieces collected here begin with Algeria in 1998 and end with Iraq in 2005. They are vivid, raw and impassioned - and they make war terrifyingly real. 432 pp. Englisch.

READ ONLINE
[8.51 MB]

Reviews

This ebook is great. I really could comprehend every thing using this composed e ebook. Its been designed in an exceedingly simple way and it is only following i finished reading this publication where basically modified me, modify the way in my opinion.

-- Herminia Blanda

This composed pdf is great. It usually will not cost too much. I am very easily can get a pleasure of reading a composed book.

-- Luis Klein